Coronavirus

We are aware that some parents and families may be concerned about the potential impact the spread of this virus may have on school and how we plan to deal with this. We are also aware that some families may be concerned about the return of our skiers from Northern Italy, their health and the potential for this group to bring the virus back with them. We will release further guidance to all families should any developments take place regarding this group,

In both regards, we are following Public Health England and the Foreign and Commonwealth Office advice and guidance on both the travel to Italy as well as our plans 'in school'. In addition, our children have been learning about handwashing, as well as respiratory (breathing, sneezing etc) health to help combat the spread of colds and viruses. We are actively encouraging (as you could also at home) our children to wash their hands thoroughly in hot soapy water frequently during the day. We will adapt our teaching to follow any further advice that may come, for example if we are advised to not handshake or hug, we may teach the children about fist or elbow bumps instead.

Look out for further updates via our APP.

Kind regards,

Mr White

Debate Club

In Debate Club this week we have been discussing the following question

Will emojis ever be as important as words?

This relates to our British Value of Individual Liberty.

Emojis are one way for us to express ourselves digitally. There are lots of ways we can communicate, it's important to consider the best way to express ourselves in different situations.

Year 6 Football

Our Year 6 seven a side football team took part in a LSSP/LFC tournament at Liverpool Academy this week.

They played 9 matches winning 8 drawing 1. They scored 23 goals and conceded 1. They have reached the Liverpool finals.

Well done boys.

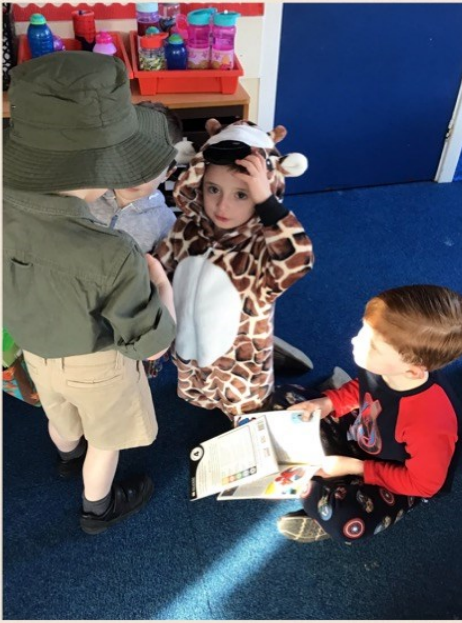

Cross Country

The children competed in the Cross Country race at Wavertree this week.

For some of them it was their first race and they completed the course in awful weather conditions. Well done to all the children and Erin F Y6 who finished second.
